

Commercial / Agricultural Property Solicitor

Description

Nelson Bridges is delighted to be working with a highly respected, long-established law firm in the heart of the Eden Valley. The firm has a strong and loyal client base across both commercial and agricultural sectors and is now seeking to appoint a Commercial/Agricultural Property Solicitor to join its close-knit and supportive team.

This is a fantastic opportunity for a Solicitor seeking high-quality work, genuine flexibility, and progression within a friendly and well-regarded practice. The firm offers a truly people-focused culture where quality of service takes precedence over targets, and where your development is actively supported.

The Role

The firm is looking for a Solicitor (NQE+) with experience or a strong interest in the following areas, supported as required by senior colleagues:

- Sales and purchases of commercial and agricultural property
- Landlord and tenant matters (leases, tenancy agreements and licences)
- Easements, overage agreements and mortgages
- Managing a developing caseload with appropriate supervision
- Delivering excellent client service and maintaining strong relationships

The successful candidate will be collaborative, proactive, and confident in their communication and someone who enjoys contributing positively to a small, friendly team.

What's on Offer

- Competitive salary based on experience
- Supportive, close-knit team with experienced colleagues
- Potential pathway to future directorship or management position
- No billing targets – a focus on quality over volume
- Strong commitment to professional development, including funded training
- Discretionary annual bonus
- Stunning rural location with both local and national client work

If you would like to learn more about this opportunity or to arrange a confidential conversation, we would love to hear from you.
