Public Law Family Solicitor

Description

Nelson Bridges is delighted to be retained by a long-established high street practice in central Middlesbrough. This highly respected firm has built an excellent reputation for delivering high-quality representation to both private and publicly funded clients, with a strong ethos of providing a caring and sympathetic approach.

You will be joining a very well-established Public Law team with full administrative support, enabling you to focus on providing the best service to clients. The role offers genuine opportunities for career growth, with the potential to take on supervisory responsibilities and develop into Head of Department.

What's on Offer

• Join a highly regarded and long-running practice with a strong community presence
• Work within a supportive Public Law team with dedicated admin support
• Opportunity to step into a Supervisor role and progress to Head of Department
• Competitive salary and benefits package

This is an excellent opportunity for a committed solicitor to advance their career within a reputable, client-focused practice.
